

Important Notice to Shareholders of the CBRE Clarion Global Real Estate Income Fund (NYSE: IGR)
CUSIP: 12504G100

Dear Shareholder:

We have important information about the 2020 1099 tax forms for CBRE Clarion Global Real Estate Income Fund. Funds like CBRE Clarion Global Real Estate Income Fund are required to provide 1099 tax forms to shareholders by January 31 for the previous tax year. For reasons explained below, the Fund will file a request with the Internal Revenue Service for a 30-day extension and will finalize the 2020 tax year information after the January 31 tax reporting deadline. The Fund plans to finalize the information within the time allotted by the 30-day extension and will make the information available to shareholders investing directly with the Fund as well as the financial intermediaries responsible for reporting to indirect shareholders investing through a brokerage account.

Shareholders that own shares indirectly should keep in mind that some broker-dealers may distribute information on Fund distributions based on preliminary data and subsequently distribute revised reports after receiving the Fund's final 2020 tax year information. Shareholders investing in the Fund indirectly should contact their financial advisor for information regarding the availability of the Fund's final 2020 tax year information.

The CBRE Clarion Global Real Estate Income Fund invests in real estate investment trusts ("REITs") and other real estate companies. REITs typically recharacterize a portion of the distributions paid during the year from ordinary income to capital gain and/or return of capital after year-end. Until the Fund receives a final determination from these companies as to the source of distributions – generally around January 31 – the Fund cannot provide a final determination of the source of distributions paid. As a result, the Fund must file for a 30-day extension to allow for the time necessary to finalize the 2020 tax year information. Shareholders should consult a tax advisor with any questions specific to an individual's tax situation.

For tax information, registered shareowners may contact Computershare Shareowner Service LLC, P.O. Box 505000, Louisville, KY 40233, Phone Number: (866) 221-1580.
